I borrowed that term from the libertarians. It is slang for government.

DCI have a few potential clients that would like to sit in on a session while I mix their tracks. I figure this will take extra time so it seems fair to charge and hourly rate on top of the flat fee for the mix.

Any ideas?

JesseOh boy.. I wish!!

Wouldn't that be cool. But if you do so, you will lose the client
IMO.

You can, of course, lay down some rules about talking and giving you constant advice while you are eq'ing a soloed track...

"Oh, the mix went away!! It was so good a minute ago and now the guitar is too loud!"

grrrrrr

All of this is by the hour.

(Speaking from personal experience).

Perhaps the only thing "God" ever said to us was "Survive!" and then left it up to us to figure out that cooperation works better than competition. The "Golden Rule" is not simply a nice idea, it's a very practical and effective way to live peacefully with our fellow humans. And in my interpretation, this also means that if someone steals, rapes, or kills, they are essentially saying, "it's OK if you rob, rape, or kill me," hence, the usefulness of prisons and gas chambers.

As far as speculating on the afterlife, I just don't care. I'm fine with the mystery, in fact, I like a good mystery. Sure, it can be fun to say "what if this . . ." or "what if that . . ." but let's be honest here -- none of us will know until the time comes, and maybe not even then. And I'm sorry, but "because the bible tells me so" doesn't work for me. It's just stuff that was written by the brighter members of some fairly backward human societies thousands of years ago who may or may not have been inspired by a supreme being. Most likely they were inspired by a strong desire to keep order in the
