I went to my 20th and it was more depressing than fun. The dweebs were still dweebs...just middle aged dweebs. The hotties were starting to look like Joan Rivers and lots of the cool dudes who I hung with were either alcoholics, drug addicts, both or dead.

I've been getting pinged pretty regularly to attend my 40th down in Texas. I've seen enough Vincent Price movies.

;o)That's how I am feeling about it. There was a pretty high cringe factor looking at the reunion webpage. Not just how old we all are, but that the cool ones, the ones I would love to see, didn't go. And some of the ones that did go are the bozos and they going to be jerks and in your face all night...

I'll probably pass.

Sure, but you don't need a tower to write book reports. A Mac Mini will do fine for under $1k.

It's entirely possible to criticize the Mac without hyperbole, ya know. :^)

Right, because there are more companies making hardware for MSWindows boxes. That's an advantage because there is more range of choice, and a disadvantage because they all have to dance to the MSWindows beat.

Apple has fewer boxes but they control everything on those boxes. That's a disadvantage because of the fewer choices, and an advantage because there is less to go wrong or be incompatible, and if anything does goes wrong, a single company can fix it.
